

Exploring the AKS cluster – Kubernetes side

- coredns-autoscaler:
 - Tool installed in AKS as a deployment that automatically adjusts the number of CoreDNS replicas
 - Its behavior is controlled by the “coredns-autoscaler” ConfigMap

```
$k describe cm -n kube-system coredns-autoscaler
```

```
Name:          coredns-autoscaler
```

```
Namespace:     kube-system
```

```
Labels:        <none>
```

```
Annotations:   <none>
```

```
Data
```

```
====
```

```
ladder:
```

```
----
```

```
{"coresToReplicas": [[1,2],[512,3],[1024,4],[2048,5]], "nodesToReplicas": [[1,2],[8,3],[16,4],[32,5]]}
```

```
BinaryData
```

```
====
```

```
Events: <none>
```